

George Pastore

February 10, 1940 - April 20, 2019

GARDNER- George Pastore, 79, of Holden, formerly of Gardner, died Saturday, April 20, in his home.

George was born February 10, 1940, in East Boston, son of the late Lorenzo and Angelina (Magnotti) Pastore. George attended the Venture day program in Sturbridge. He enjoyed music, playing guitar and sports. George will be missed by his housemates, whom he loved.

The funeral will be held Thursday, April 25, at 10:00 A.M. at Mack Family Funeral Homes, Lamoureux-Smith & Poliks Chapel, 105 Central St., Gardner. Burial will be private in Everett.

Comments

“ George, know you are praying for the Red Sox...they need all the help they can get this year! You were a blessing to all who met you. I know I will never forget you!

Ursula

Ursula Sturms Papp - April 24, 2019 at 03:56 PM

“ George you had such a zest for life, you were never afraid to try anything new. You were a true inspiration to everyone you met. I remember how much you loved going to the Nu Cafe to play your guitar and all the applause you got! You made everyone happy just meeting you. If something broke, you were the first to grab your tool box and offer to fix it. George, it was truly an honor and a pleasure to know you.

Your pal,
Kat

Kathy Clark - April 24, 2019 at 12:31 PM

“ George, you had such a zest for life and never afraid to try anything new. You were a true inspiration to everyone you met. I will always have such fond memories of how happy you were on stage at the Nu Cafe playing your guitar! You were always the first to volunteer to fix anything at home you could use your tools on. It was an honor and pleasure to know you.

Your Pal,
Kat

Kathy - April 24, 2019 at 11:52 AM